COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Once more the people of Maine have the privilege of making a choice of the people who will administer the affairs of the State of Maine, and speak for us in the matters of our national government in Washington. Many people in other lands have little or no choice in these matters. Will we in Bethel make the most of this opportunity and cast our votes for the candidates of our choice or will we pass by the chance to voice our opinions?

You may be interested to know that to date we have had to expend nearly $2,700.00 of your money for town welfare cases. A little over $900.00 or almost exactly one-third of this money had to go to homes for the families of men who were either out of work because of the excessive use of alcohol or not sufficient left of the week's pay (after the week end parties) to buy their groceries. I realize your NO vote on the local option will not put an end to this but it may indirectly help through the years to come.

Thanks,
O. T. Rozelle

EDITORIAL

Local Option?

The election of state and county officials on next Monday is one that calls for more than the usual amount of thought on the part of the voters. It seems to be recognized that both parties have assembled excellent groups of candidates which with few exceptions may well please the independent voters who honestly seek to choose the best.

The question of "local option" on the sale of liquor again will confront the people. In the face of unceasing preachments of the fanatical groups of candidates who with few exceptions may well please the independent voters who honestly seek to choose the best.

The fact is that those interested in the success of the liquor and malt beverage industry have vast funds available, as individuals and as groups, which are used liberally and successfully in the story of their product.

There are repeatedly are the arguments expended for agricultural products, payrolls, and taxes. Still in their minds are the expensive attempts of enforcement of prohibitory laws and the savings now in the era of legal sales. And the familiar argument that "they will have it anyway" shows up every two years.

In Maine, as in all other states, there have been frequent reports of violence, abuse, or murder which have been the direct results of the use of liquor or "malt beverages."

Note that the advertisers fail to state this common "end effect" of the use of their goods.

During the past year, it is reported that a stern warning was issued by the distilling industry to newspapers and news outlets about associating liquor with acts of crime and violence in their reporting.

In this state last year 52 drivers who had been drinking were involved in fatal accidents. In other states there are reports of up to 40 per cent of the highway fatalities being caused by drinking drivers.

The purpose of this editorial, similar to others in two year intervals, is only to remind our readers of the evils which attend the sale and use of alcoholic drinks of any nature. This newspaper cannot keep from its readers the attractive publicity and misleading propaganda which saturate the radio and television waves and most magazines and newspapers. But we can repeat that those who would have you vote "Yes" are only interested in increasing the opportunities for the sale and use of liquor and malt beverages.

Although it must be admitted that all drinkers of alcoholic beverages do not become drunkards, it seems to be utter foolishness to encourage the use of anything which so often becomes a degrading habit. Your "No" vote may be the vote needed to keep from one of your family the danger and disgrace of the liquor habit.

Vote "NO."

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

How strong are the Russians and how adequate are the country's defense establishment and military program? These enormous questions have been given an answer by our ranking military man, Admiral Arthur W. Radford, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The Admiral's views have been presented to a Senate subcommittee and excerpts were reprinted for publication in the Washington Post of August.

Admiral Radford pointed out that the threat to our security consists of the political and power of the Soviet Union and that the problem is to meet this threat without undermining our fundamental values and institutions. He stated that the situation is vastly complicated by the fact that the threat is not solely a military one. It also includes economic, political, and cultural aspects.

ALICE-IN-TAXLAND

There is an Alice-in-Wonderland quality about our federal income tax laws, with their extremely high upper-bracket rates. U. S. News and World Report gives an example.

The magazine says: "A baseball player's angry gesture, during a ball game, may cost the Federal Government $4200 in income taxes. It also may bring the athlete a personal profit of $4200."

Does that sound absurd? Well, here's the true story. The world's highest-salaried ballplayer ($100,000 a year) was fined $5,000 by his club for a display of temper toward the fans. This is considered a business expense, for the reason that the fine must be paid if the player is to keep on practicing his profession. Thus, his taxable income is reduced by the $5,000.

After deductions, the top tax rate on this player's income is 81 per cent. So the fine gives him a tax reduction of $4200, leaving him only $800 out of pocket.

But that isn't all. Admirers of the player are reported to be making up a fund to pay the fine. U. S. News says: "If they give him $5,000, that amount is not taxable at all. In that case, the ballplayer would stand an $800 loss and a $5,000 gain, for a net profit of $4200."

Very few of us have any personal experience with either $100,000 incomes or $5,000 fines. But this factual illustration indicates just how confused, inequitable, and generally unsound our tax laws are, take Topsy, they just grew and grew into a crazy quilt. That's why sentiment for a complete overhaul has been snowballing.
